

Press Release

SCG in collaboration with Chulabhorn Royal Academy to prepare R&D innovation and human resources development to raise the medical community and the Thai public health.

SCG cooperates with Chulabhorn Royal Academy (CRA) to research and development product innovation for public health services and CRA's patients health care. As well as exchange knowledge in management, human resources development, services and social contribution activities which will lead to academic, technology and innovation excellence that is beneficial to the public and the overall health of the country. On this occasion, Mr. Yuttana Jiamtragan, Vice President – Corporate Administration of SCG recently signed Memorandum of Understanding with Dr. Nithi Mahanont, Secretary General of Chulabhorn Royal Academy.

CRA is an educational institute that aims to produce scholars and professionals in medicine, nursing, public health, environmental toxicology, science and technology. Also to provide medical service with international standards to people especially for the poor and underprivileged. This is in accordance to SCG's operational guidelines that aimed at creating innovative products and services by collaborating with various sectors to sustainably raise the quality of life for people, society and environment throughout the region.
